Dear Pastor and Praying Friends,

Hello once again from Madagascar! It is a joy to write and let you know what God is doing through our ministry here. I pray you are all doing well and enjoying God's richest blessings. Our move into our new home has taken up most of our time since mid-February. Thankfully, we are moved in and getting settled now. There still is much to do in order to get our house set up and functioning, but it has been a joy to somewhat get back into a more normal family and ministry schedule, though. Here is our new address:

On February 12th, we hosted a Valentine's Day meal for our church couples. We also invited couples from another Baptist church in town. I believe we had 19 couples attend. Everyone had a great time of food, fun and fellowship.

Since our last prayer letter, I have continued teaching our Bible Institute course, which will finish on April 3rd. The next course will begin April 24th. We also baptized three people in February and March, and carried out normal soul winning and ministry activities. Four different men in the church preached our last four Sunday afternoon services. That was a blessing to me, as well as to our church people.

We have begun discussion of our completed church constitution. If all goes well, we will hold our official chartering service sometime in April or May! Our church is also planning a special outreach on Easter Sunday. We hope to have many visitors. Nellie and I invited a lady we met out on soul winning last Saturday morning. Please pray for this lady, and many others to come on Easter Sunday. Please pray for many to be saved as well.

This week, I was replying to a college student's questions about our experiences as missionaries. As I reminisced about deputation, language school, and ministry over the years here, my heart was blessed. It is such a blessing to count you all as friends, partners and supporters. We love you dearly and thank the Lord for you! We try to make sure we thank you personally for specific love offerings you send, but if we miss you by accident, please know that we are very grateful for them. God bless you.

Sincerely,

Ben Anglea
